

Report to Rutland Health and Wellbeing Board

Subject:	A review of commissioning of services for children and young people with learning disabilities who challenge services in Rutland conducted by NDTI.
Meeting Date:	28 June 2016
Report Author:	Mark Fowler
Presented by:	Tim O'Neill
Paper for:	Note

Context, including links to Health and Wellbeing Priorities e.g. JSNA and Health and Wellbeing Strategy:

As part of a regional collaborative approach to system improvement in SEND, Rutland agreed to participate in a piloted review of SEND provision. Conducted by the National Development Team for Inclusion, the review took place on 31 March and 1 April 2016.

The review focused upon services to children who have learning difficulties and who also pose a challenge to the services provided for them. A range of stakeholder and providers were involved in the review, including parents, children and professional staff from schools, public sector and voluntary agencies. Two NDTI reviewers led the process which lasted two days. One day was spent in Rutland interviewing stakeholders and reviewing services; the second involved feedback to service heads. The review timetable is attached in Appendix A.

Given the late notice of the review, the parents, children and staff are thanked for their willing and helpful contribution.

The full text of the review is in the attached report. The key findings are shown below.

A presentation on the contents of the report will be made during the meeting. An initial response to the report will be included in the presentation; a formal response to the findings will follow.

Financial implications:

There are no financial implications in the report itself.

The recommendations may be implemented in a range of different ways and to varying degrees. The means chosen and scope of implementation will have financial implications. Once a full response has been prepared, the financial implications will be made explicit and recommendations identified.

Recommendations:

That the Board:

1. Note the contents of the report.
